Aman Kapoor, CEO, Airport Land Development, Delhi International Airports Ltd (DIAL), sheds light on some of the magnanimous initiatives the company is taking up with an aim to set up a world-class airport infrastructure across various cities in India

As the CEO of Airport Land Development at DIAL, Aman Kapoor spearheads several critical initiatives within the company. He has also led the team developing the GMR Aerocity brand of integrated developments in Delhi, Hyderabad, and Goa airports. For someone who has a continued demonstrated history in the real estate and land development business, he has held leadership positions in large multi-use real estate developments. With over two decades of experience working across geographies including India and the US, Kapoor is spearheading several initiatives at GMR.

The GMR Group announced the 1500-acre GMR AeroCity Hyderabad last year to augment the infrastructure at the international airport. Kapoor has been quoted saying that this would be an integrated mixed-use development with a business park, retail park, aerospace and industrial park, logistics park and hospitality part of the space.

As a conglomerate with interests in airports, energy, transportation, urban infrastructure, services business, and sports, GMR is one of the fastest-growing infrastructure organisations in India. In December 2022, GMR Airports Limited (GAL) and National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF) announced a financial partnership for NIIF to invest in the equity capital of three greenfield international airports at Mopa, Goa, and Bhogapuram in Andhra Pradesh. NIIF will invest Rs. 6.31 billion in the form of Compulsory Convertible Debenture (CCD) in a special purpose vehicle, GMR Goa International Airport Limited (GGIAL).
